New plant enlivens east entry

—20 jobs quickly filled

By Peter Crosby

Didsbury's old livestock auction market has come back to life.

"We're very excited about the prospects and optimistic about the future here," said David Moffatt last week as he talked about the opening of a hay processing plant at the former home of the auction mart on Didsbury's eastern boundary.

Operated by the special products division of Midwest Agri, a big United States commodities company, the Didsbury plant's 20 jobs were filled in a matter of days.

"We had over 170 applications in just over a week," said Ian Hopfe of Didsbury, general manager of the plant.

Mr. Moffatt, marketing manager of Midwest Agri's special products division, said the company has signed an eight-month lease for the auction market property, owned by Calgary Stockyards, with a number of options.

"We may decide to negotiate an extension of the lease, or we may decide to buy, or we may decide to buy and build new buildings," Mr. Moffatt said.

Basically, the operation of the plant goes like this, as explained by Mr. Moffatt and Mr. Hopfe: large round bales, weighing an average 1,100 pounds, are unravelled and run through a compressor (3,800 pounds of pressure per square inch) that turns each big bale into 10 smaller ones weighing between 130 to 140 pounds.

The finished product is then packed in containers for shipment overseas to the Japanese market.

Mr. Moffatt said Midwest Agri, a big player in the American northwest agribusiness from South Dakota to Washington and heavily involved in sugar beets and hay production in the state of Washington, decided to make its first move into the Canadian hay processing industry in the Didsbury area because of the excellent quality of the hay produced in this area.

"What we look for is top quality timothy hay and this is the heart of the timothy growing area," he said. "We're looking to produce 8,000 metric tons between now and May."

While he didn't expect to be in operation quite this quickly, Mr. Moffatt said the hard work of Mr. Hopfe and his crews have speeded the start-up process. "We expect to be at full capacity right after Christmas," he said.

"This is a business that's still in its infancy," Mr. Moffatt added. "Right now the Japanese market demands 90,000 to 100,000 metric tons of timothy hay for top grade dairy and horse food. They're very keen on developing alternate sources."

The only consideration, he said, in going to compressed bales, is the cost of shipping. The current rate is $1,700 (U.S.) per container. The more hay can be gotten into a container, the cheaper it is to ship.

"By compressing, we get the product there a lot cheaper," explained Mr. Moffatt. "Instead of nine to 12 metric tons [with large bales], we can get 20 to 23 metric tons of small bales into a container."

The compressor in Didsbury is capable of producing the equivalent of five containers per day.

The product here will be different than that at Champion Hay Processors, west of town, Mr. Moffatt noted. "They're producing alfalfa pellets," he said.

How does the future look for Midwest Agri and a prolonged stay in Didsbury? "We'll have to see how things go between now and July of next year. If we find it's not big enough, we may have to build a hay storage shed and other buildings.

"And the options are there for other development possibilities. We're really excited about this."

For now, upgrading will be limited to grounds improvement and upkeep. Oh, yes, a new loading dock has been built too.

Town going to private garbage pickup

By Peter Crosby

Didsbury is negotiating a deal that would see garbage pickup in the hands of a private contractor.

"We want this to be in place by January," said Coun. Neville Marshall.

"The whole objective is to cut costs," added Marshall.

The cost of disposal will decrease for the town while freeing up two town trucks and manpower currently used for garbage pickup.

The current residential rate for garbage pickup is $12 every two months. Under the proposal being discussed, this rate would remain unchanged.

However, the town would pay only $8.50 per residential pickup, according to preliminary figures presented to town council.

The contractor, Just-Jo-Ken, is seeking a 24-month contract.

But all of the details are being negotiated.

"It's being negotiated and it still has to be ratified," said Chief Administrative Officer Mike Storey.

The contractor and town are also hoping to work out a deal for commercial garbage pickup currently handled by town crews as well.

Councillors Doug Sharpe and Al Engel said a package deal should be pursued.

Current rates "are a drop in the bucket compared to what it's going to cost in the future," predicted Coun. Marshall.

Didsbury has one of only three landfills still operational in the County of Mountain View.

The county's waste management authority is continuing its efforts to come up with a suitable regional landfill.

Didsbury's representative on the authority, Marshall, said the possibility exists that garbage may have to be hauled outside the county because of difficulties in finding a suitable landfill site here.

An Alberta radio station is currently running a contest where people phone in to tell about the worst job they ever had. One lady said she was barmaid in a tough little pub in Nova Scotia where her least favorite chore was, "chasing the keg." This involved washing out barrels in a slimy basement. She stayed with the job for several years so there must have been some rewards. A second woman told of her first and worst job. She was 14 and worked for 3 weeks putting foam pads in padded bras. She was bored out of her mind. Another was a bus girl in a busy restaurant during stampede week and broke crockery and spilled things on people for 10 panic filled days.

Awful jobs all of them and nothing I'd care to do but I'll bet my worst job was even worse.

I was 16, working in the Ponoka Co-op Dry Goods Department and looking for something more challenging. Our brother Ronnie's friend Stan was the manager of the local Creamery and he told Ronnie that the ALPHA plant in Red Deer had job openings and paid well.

My cousin Dott drove me to Red Deer for the interview. She was 17, and learning to drive, so it took forever. When we got to the outskirts of Red Deer and saw the sign saying "25 mph" she had to speed up.

The Alpha plant manager was very nice, kind of fatherly and benign. He inquired about Stan and my brother and now that we had established this friendly relationship he offered me some advice. The position in the office was O.K. but it was, after all, just an ordinary office job. If I really wanted a "career" I should snap up a golden opportunity that by some incredible stroke of luck had arisen just this week. There was a vacancy in their apprentice egg grading program and if I were to meet this challenge the world would open before me.

"From Boston to Zanzibar," he said, "there are egg grading stations offering big wages and Easter bonuses to graduates of this program." He made a career in egg grading sound better than one in diplomatic service. "Why," I wondered in growing excitement, It's beginning to look . . .

Signs of the season are everywhere. Town crews have installed the always-popular street decorations throughout downtown Didsbury.

"would anyone go into law or medicine when egg grading was so obviously the wave of the future."

On the first day of my new career I reported for duty wearing high heeled white sandals, nylons, grey pleated skirt and a white nylon blouse. Someone directed me to a flight of dark, cold, cement steps and at the foot of them I paused to let my eyes adjust to the gloom.

The ceiling was low and the lighting poor. There were no windows. Grey cement walls dripped moisture into stagnant pools. Egg crates, 48 dozen to a crate, were stacked 6 feet high, around the walls. These were arranged according to those which were ungraded, those graded and ready to be boxed and those which were graded, boxed and waiting to be picked up by delivery men. The actual egg grading machine with all its belts, lights and pulleys clanked and rumbled centre stage and attached to it was a black curtained cross between a shower stall and an 1890's photographers hood. This was the egg graders cubicle and from it emerged a gnarled, dark, troll like creature named Jock. Only one of my three fellow employees, was actually in the apprentice program. I guessed that the others couldn't pass some test which probably involved hard things like remembering your phone number. They all wore sweatshirts and jeans and looked as if they had not seen sunlight in years. They were not friendly. The word troglodyte comes to mind.

On the first day I ruined my nylons, broke all my fingernails and learned how to carry 60 lb. boxes through pools of water. On about the 4th day the troll approached, looked up from under his beetling brows and said, "arghl neugal grundgey uch ken licht." One of the assistant trolls translated this as an invitation to his cubicle. Inside the dark cubicle he uttered more gutteral sounds, snatched 3 eggs in each of his grimy paws and began rotating them against a tiny bright spot of light.

For the next several days I shifted between hauling boxes, spinning eggs and trying to count by 12's. I hated all of them.

On the 11th day I was very late for work and the troglodytes gleefully rubbed their chapped little paws together and told me that the manager wanted to see me in the office.

Manager: "Do you get paid from 8 or 9 a.m.?"

Me: "From the salary I thought it was about noon."

Manager: "Are you not happy here?"

Me: "A brain damaged chimpanzee would love it here."

Manager: "And you don't?"

That was the end of my egg grading career and in egg grading stations round the world a little sigh of sorrow issued forth.

Farm aid not enough

Farm aid initiatives announced last week by Premier Getty indicate that the provincial government recognizes the importance of agriculture in Alberta, according to Unifarm President Hartmann Nagel. But, he says, his organization will continue its lobby to convince the government that the aid announced last week has failed to recognize the magnitude of the problem facing Alberta's crop producers.

The province's contribution to the forerunner to the Net Income Stabilization Account program, the minor adjustment to the fuel distribution allowance, aid for producers in the drought-stricken area North-east of Edmonton, and extension of the ADC's Indexed Deferral loans will offer some help to some producers, Nagel says. But for many it will be too little too late, he predicts, particularly if the federal government's $700 million offer continues to be held up while details of allocation and basis of distribution are being ironed out by producer group representatives.

The Unifarm president says he is pleased that the Getty government met some of the requests made earlier by the general farm organization. Full participation by the Province in the NISA forerunner will put about an additional $21 million into the program which when added to Ottawa's contribution will bring the total to more than $80 million. (The Province has also budgeted $12 million for 1992-93 when the actual NISA will be in its first year of operation.)

Hospital Corner

Our health care centre is an accredited multilevel primary care facility providing 35 active care beds and 100 long term care beds. We serve a population area of 14,000 residents for acute care and an additional population of 4,000 for long term care which includes the Sundre Hospital District.

What does accredited mean? At the end of our accreditation term an independent group of medical professionals visits our facility to inspect the way in which we provide care and the type of care we provide. Upon completion of their survey an accreditation award is recommended which could be anywhere from 0-4 years.

The acute care portion of our facility was constructed in 1984 while the long term care areas were built in 1971 and 1964. Our facility employs over 240 full-time, part-time and casual staff and operates with a 7.5 million dollar budget. We have four physicians that provide medical services to our facility. The physicians are not employees of Mountain View Health Care Centre and must apply for privileges to treat patients out of the hospital. These privilege requests are reviewed and then granted or not granted by the Board of Trustees of the hospital. Over the past four years we have been fortunate to attract a urologist and gerontologist who visit our facility once a month to provide special services.

The acute care facility provides 24 hour medical, nursing, emergency, obstetrical and palliative care services. Elective surgical services are provided three days per week and there is provision for 24 hour emergency surgical services.

The cost per day to maintain an acute care bed is $430. and the long term care bed cost is $137. per day. The financial resources required to operate our health care facility are becoming more scarce each year and as a result the provincial government has established the Acute Care Funding Plan. In future, our funding will be based on the severity of the illness of patients rather than the number of patients that use our facility. The next few years will be a challenge for the Health Care industry. In order to maintain our present level of health care we will have to do more with less financial support. All hospitals and the health unit within the County of Mountain View will have to work together to eliminate duplication and ensure service gaps are provided for.

If you have any questions or concerns relating to our facility please feel free to contact me.

Madness still a hit

Midnight Madness continues to be a successful promotion for most of the businesses participating in Didsbury's pre-Christmas shopping promotion.

The town was hopping Friday night as shoppers took advantage of clear, cool weather to take advantage of price mark downs on a wide variety of goods and services.

Merchants and shop owners said the response was as good if not better than in other years.

"We were really busy," said a new member of the retail community. "It was much better than I expected. It was great."

Midnight Madness is held twice yearly, in spring and fall. It's a project of the Didsbury Chamber of Commerce.

Adding to the festive air was the annual light-up of the big Christmas tree next to the train station, the serving of hot cider and hay rides through town streets.

RCMP report

Didsbury RCMP have received approximately 175 complaints since Nov. 4. Of these 30 were Criminal Code related and 22 were motor vehicle accidents.

With increased shopping associated with the coming Christmas season, motorists are reminded by the RCMP to keep their parcels out of sight of passerby and to lock their vehicles.

Looking brighter

By Peter Crosby

Okay, so Calgary Stampeders didn't win the Grey Cup. They had their chances. They just fell short.

But that's minor gloom.

In the world of professional sports, there's always next year.

The good news in Didsbury is that some positive things are happening, or at least are on the horizon.

One of the developers of Didsbury's new Rosebud Valley golf course says things are looking "very positive" and he promised more specific details within the next two weeks.

Most people I've talked to within town have adopted a wait-and-see attitude on this one. But if you ask me, yes, I think it's going to happen.

There are other positive signs in our community:

- * the sale of the Mountain View Bible College to Calgary developers and the anticipated development of a seniors village;

- * the revival of the auction market property and the immediate gung-ho efforts of Midwest Agri and the general manager of their Didsbury operation, Ian Hopfe, in establishing a hay processing plant employing 20 people.

- * the occupancy of the former Beaver Lumber building in downtown Didsbury;

- * the strong possibility of more housing developments;

- * a plan to spruce up the school yard north of Westglen and Ross Ford schools and turn it into a natural recreation area.

Other projects are in the works too.

Taken together, they give Didsbury residents reason to be hopeful about the future.

No shame

The Stampeders had nothing to be ashamed about in their Grey Cup dance.

The Rocket was just too much.

He was their main weapon, along with Matt Dunigan, who showed he could come through with the big play despite a lousy first half.

Toronto's special teams and kicking teams were better.

They deserved to win.

But Calgary will be back. They'll win it next year.

Spirit of sharing

As we near the Christmas season, it's touching when individuals get together to help those less fortunate souls among us.

Helping Donna LePrieur cope with a most painful, distressing illness is a way we can all share in the spirit of the season.

Gwen Day has used her artistic ability to try and help Donna by offering an original watercolor in a fundraising effort.

She challenged other artists to join in her idea.

Are you listening?

Don't forget this Sunday's Didsbury Ramblers game and yet another way to share by donating a non-perishable food item for free admission. It's the Ramblers' way of being charitable too.

Pool benefits outweigh costs

Dear Editor:

Although the writer of last week's letter (Review, Nov. 19), may find security in his figures and comments regarding the tax blight which he seems to find inevitable if we were to build a pool, I find it hard to believe in the figures presented, that are not based on facts.

I fail to see where the pool alone may attract or discourage potential families and businesses. What a town has to offer as a total package seems more realistic than singling out the pool and deducting that because we have a pool we have high taxes.

Consider your town as a package of businesses, schools, hospital, recreation facilities, churches, service clubs, volunteers and the list could go on and on. If we lose parts of this package we make it easier for people to look elsewhere for a place to locate. To lose parts of this package we weaken the community as a whole. Consider losing the hospital, the curling rink, the arena or the pool. What is the resulting consequence?

My strong feelings towards a pool stem from having grown up in a town without recreational facilities leaving a person with a

Dear Editor,

Naked dancing in bars is a topic the Getty government has now taken under review and a decision could be reached soon. feeling of being isolated, and having to go elsewhere for everything. My wife and I were attracted to Didsbury because of the quality of life and the total package it seemed to offer.

Over the past few years I have steadily watched the town lose businesses, families and the spirit which it seemed to have previously.

Didsbury has offered many memorable moments in my family's life, our children have been born here—we now call it our home. Over the years we have used many of the facilities—we seem to take them for granted and don't realize what has been lost until it is gone. The closing of the pool made me realize more than ever that the town was slowly eroding.

Didsbury being our home is worth working toward the renewal of community spirit. I challenge all of us to ask, "Are we truly making a positive difference in our town?"

It is always easier to tear down and ridicule, it is easier to accuse and insult, it is easier to stand on the sidelines and complain.

Coming up with positive ways to make our town better is the challenge for all of us.

Let's remember the good that comes from having a pool. Consider the cost of the pool as compared to the many hours of happiness it will bring to its many users.

Seeing the joy in a child's face as they take their first few strokes or the freedom and satisfaction a grandparent has relaxing in a whirlpool will be the only rewards I need for my support.

The B.O.P. Society (Build Our Pool) was formed so that those of us who feel strongly about the pool and the enhancement it brings, to our community, could contribute their time and support.

I've been motivated by the support from many active volunteers and supporters who believe in the pool, for which I am grateful.

In conclusion I would like to leave the writer of last week's letter with a quick quote: "Both optimists and pessimists contribute to our society. The optimist invents the airplane and the pessimist the parachute."

GOVERNMENT NEWS

Oil program should mean more jobs

Hon. Roy Brassard, M.L.A.
Olds-Didsbury Constituency

MP's corner

Louise Feltham
Wildrose MP

We are all aware of what is happening in the oil and gas industries these days within the area of exploration and prices.

Premier Don Getty and Energy Minister Rick Orman have jointly announced that the Crude Oil Exploration and Development Program will be the first in a series of government actions designed to respond to current economic conditions in Alberta. A direct response to concerns shared by the government and industry that the level of activity in the province is too low, this initiative is designed to increase activity for oil exploration and development in Alberta.

The initiative has four components which should stimulate activity in the crude oil sector. First, the Exploration Oil

Well Holiday will forego oil royalties for two years for exploration wells drilled between November 1, 1991 and March 31, 1992 and for one year for wells drilled between April 1, 1992 and March 31, 1993. Due to access restrictions, the qualification period for the two year holiday will be extended to April 1, 1993 for the northern and Foothills regions. A $1 million per well royalty cap will apply. The Development Oil Well Holiday will provide for an oil royalty holiday of one year for development oil wells drilled between November 1, 1991 and March 31, 1993. A $400,000 per well royalty cap will apply. The Reactivated Oil Well Holiday will grant an oil royalty holiday of five years on reactivated oil wells. A production cap of 25,000 barrels per well will apply to all reactivated oil wells. The New Oil Well Certification will guarantee that new oil status be given without application to all oil wells drilled after October 31, 1991, to all oil wells reactivated under the reactivated well holiday program, and to all currently inactive oil wells which are reactivated after a shut-in of one year. Lastly, I would like to point out that these components apply only to crude oil exploration and do not include natural gas exploration and development.

With between 50 and 60 percent of total exports being related to the energy industry, the health of Alberta's energy sector is vital. The industry generates $15 billion annually in exports and creates many, many jobs across our province. As well, the vitality of the energy sector has repercussions throughout the province in our restaurants, motels, hardware stores and other service sector businesses associated with oil exploration and development. I am certain that this series of measures will help to stimulate a depressed drilling industry.

I am certain that the crude oil exploration and development program will mean more jobs for more Albertans in all areas of the province, particularly in our area. If you have any questions about this program, or just want to voice your concerns, please call me at our constituency office 556-3132 or my Edmonton office at 422-0141 (collect).

Under the Farm Support And Adjustment Measures (FSAM II) grains and oilseeds producers will receive $700 million in assistance.

The assistance will be provided in two installments. Most farmers will receive the first installment beginning in late December and the final installment in April. The first installment of $5 per seeded acre will be made beginning in December 1991, with the final installment payment expected before spring seeding. The final installment will also include a payment on eligible forage and summerfallow at a rate of 25% of the payment on seeded acres.

The first installment will be made by Agriculture Canada based on CWB Permit Book Data in 1990-91. During the first two weeks of December producers will receive a one page personalized application form which they will complete and return by mail to Agriculture Canada for processing. Producers who had seeded acreage in 1990/91 but do not receive application forms by mail will be able to obtain them by calling Agriculture Canada. The final installment will be issued after all applications have been received.

Alberta producers will receive 26.39% or $184.70 of the $700 million. Further information available on request.

claims equal rights for all. If it is decided that nude shows are to continue to be an allowable sales gimmick, why shouldn't they be an allowable sales gimmick for those over 18 for all products and services--banking, insurance, groceries, etc. If such a plan were implemented, it would distance the Getty government from discrimination in allowing special rights only to bars selling booze. Noteworthy is the fact that alcohol sales bring in over $1 million per day to government coffers.

To be part of the decision making regarding naked dancing in bars, write now to Chairman Review Committee, ALCB, St. Albert, Alta. T8N 3T5. Send a copy to your MLA, Legislature Bldg., Edmonton T5K 2B6, who will be voting on the issue.

Jackson W.I. news

Our president, Joan Foat, welcomed the 12 members and one guest, Marie Scott, to the Nov. 20th meeting. Darlene Hallett, our hostess, suggested the song, "The More We Get Together" as our opener and we then repeated the W.I. Collect. The roll call was a suggestion for programming in 1992 or else! And there were no or elses.

The minutes were read by our secretary, Lita Reid and were adopted after one correction.

Out of the minutes came discussion about the District Conference to be held in Airdrie. The time and place has not yet been finalized.

The Birthday Tea will be Nov. 28 at the Didsbury Auxiliary Hospital at 1:30 p.m. The menu was planned. Volunteers among our membership agreed on what item of food to bring and of course, themselves to help serve.

Marie Olson gave her treasurer's report.

Mrs. Feltham, M.P. for Wildrose sent material explaining "Rights of the Child" which we shall study in depth. If these laws are enacted, a child might have more rights than the parent.

Dot Odell as Social Services Convenor, will have this as her topic with a guest speaker to explain the ramifications of a Child's Rights.

Our Annual Christmas Carol Service will be at 2 p.m., Dec. 8 at the Knox United Church in Didsbury. Three were needed as readers and Dot Odell, Catharine Reid and Lita Reid volunteered.

Homes were selected for all the meetings for 1992. Lita Reid has the list if more information is needed.

Mary Jane Davies requested our W.I. cater to an 80th birthday party for her mother, Nellie Davies on Feb. 22 at the Gold & Silver Club in Cremona. The motion was carried unanimously, we all hold Nellie in high esteem.

A paper was read, also sent by our sitting M.P., regarding the "Nina de Villiers" case. A petition was enclosed and was circulated for signatures.

Judy Bellamy had as her topic "Power Smart" with several pertinent handouts. Thank you, Judy.

Our next meeting will be at Lita Reid's home on Dec. 11 at 1:30. Read your schedule for details regarding the "Christmas Lunch."

A lovely non-cholesterol, non-fattening, healthy and most appetizing lunch was served by Dot Odell and Gerda Niehaus.

See you on the 11th.

Top 4-H judges headed for competitions

Large hams, greater balance, level udder, straight top-line and smooth muscling are terms Alberta's top 4H club member judges are comfortable using.

Recently 66 of those 4-Hers were in Edmonton using their livestock judging skills at the fifth annual provincial livestock judging competition. The top 13 judges earned themselves the right to compete at international contests after rating the conformation of beef cattle, sheep, light horses, dairy cattle and swine.

Alana Groeneveld, 16, Gladys Beef, Blackie was the overall competition winner. Groeneveld will now take her judging abilities to the Denver Western National Stock Show in January, 1992. The Alberta Canada All Breeds Association (ACABA) sponsors this trip for Alberta's top 4-H judge.

A dozen other 4-Hers, based on total overall points, also were awarded trips to international judging competitions. Eight of them will be hitting the road later this week to compete at the International 4-H Judging Seminar at Agribition. Going to Regina are: Tarolyn Aaserud, 18, 4-H Menagerie, Craigmyle; Jennifer Bateman, 17, Jumping Pound 4-H Club, Cochrane; Tim Bowman, 16, Lakemere Beef, Onoway; Keith Evans, 19, West Carstairs Beef, Carstairs; Tony Mitchell, 18, Kleskun Multi, Sexsmith; Rechelle Sinclair, 17, Mundare Beef, Lamont; Kirk Sorensen, Rainbow Riders Horse, Endiang and Allen Thompson, 20, Gladys Beef, High River.

As well, next year four other top qualifiers will represent Alberta at the 1992 Western 4-H Round-up Judging Competition. Going to Colorado next fall are: Geoff Hoar, 16, Knee Hill Valley Beef, Innisfail; Denis Kotowich, 16, St. Paul Multi, St. Paul; Gene Rawe, 17, Strome Beef, Strome and Tammy Young, 16, Camrose Beef, Camrose.

Both of these trips are sponsored by Uniblok Canada, a division of Superior Feeds, in Rockyford.

"The local, regional, provincial and international competitions build confidence in these young people by giving them evaluation, decision making and communications tools to use throughout their lives," says Henry Wiegman, Provincial 4-H Agricultural Specialist.

At the provincial competition, judging tips and livestock industry standards are discussed and illustrated by experts before competitors judge classes. Each contestant writes a quiz and is judged on written and oral reasons in placing 10 different livestock classes. Competitors qualify for the provincial contest through regional events.

The provincial competition is held during Edmonton Northlands Farmfair and is sponsored by Alberta Treasury Branches in cooperation with the host, Edmonton Northlands.

4-H competitors

West Didsbury 4-H news

By Club Reporter, Greg Roberts

On Nov. 11, the West Didsbury 4H Beef Club held its second meeting of the season at Melvin Hall with 21 members in attendance.

The meeting was called to order by Vice President, Brett

Israelson. We discussed old business from our last meeting and then started into new business.

The club decided on a date, time and place to hold weigh-in day, Nov. 24th at Mike Barr's from 10:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. The club thought up some other fundraisers like baseball throw at Didsbury trade fair, slave sale, selling Christmas cards and 4H collectors plates.

The club discussed a date and time for the Didsbury 4H curling funspiel but a date and time will be set later on.

Also the 4H cookbooks just arrived and we are selling them for $15 each. Anyone interested in a cook book contact any member of the club. They make great Christmas presents.

After the meeting we all had the pleasure of listening to Dr. Mark Cameron of Strathmore, give a speech on Ralston Purina nutrition feeds and how to feed our project animals.

The next 4H meeting will be held on Dec. 9th at Melvin Hall.

Similarities to Trochu heist

Jewellery store robbed again

By Peter Crosby

For the second time in less than a week, an Olds jewellery store has been burglarized.

Olds RCMP said a thief or thieves broke into the Treasure Chest (Olds) Ltd. and made off with an estimated $10,000 worth of jewellery.

The latest break, enter and theft occurred Nov. 21, sometime between 5 a.m. and 7 a.m. RCMP said there are no suspects and the matter is under investigation.

The first robbery in the store's 18-year history occurred Nov. 15 when the front door was kicked in, the showcases smashed and looted.

Although an alarm system sounded at the store, RCMP believe it took only 45 seconds to a minute for the burglars to scoop up the merchandise and make their getaway.

Police are looking into the possibility that a third jewellery store heist in Trochu may be related to the two in Olds.

Three Hills RCMP said Trochu Jewellery and Gift Ware was broken into during the early morning hours of Nov. 19. There were similarities to the first Olds heist, a Three Hills RCMP spokesman said.

The front door and glass showcases were smashed in and a number of rings, watches and other jewellery, including silver and gold chains stolen.

A sterling silver display was also taken.

"It looks like they entered the store about 3:50 a.m.," said RCMP. "The store alarm was working but they didn't waste too much time hanging around."

RCMP in Olds and Three Hills are asking anyone with information related to these crimes to call the RCMP or Crimestoppers.

Suspended sentence for assault

An Olds College student was given a one-year suspended sentence after pleading guilty to a charge of assault with a weapon when he appeared in Olds provincial court last Thursday.

Alfred Muniero, 24, was also prohibited from possessing a weapon for the next five years.

He was charged in March in connection with a stabbing incident in the Olds College students' residence. RCMP said there was an altercation in Frank Grisdale Hall.

Tyler Marr, 20, of Dunsmore, suffered superficial injuries including scratches to his back and chest.

Crimestoppers

Camper thieves sought

This week, Crimestoppers wants your help in solving a theft that happened in Olds.

Sometime between the afternoon of the Aug. 3 and the morning hours of Aug. 6, 1991, unknown culprits went to Olds Leisure Products lot and removed two campers, as well as a few small items that were stolen from other campers and trailers located on the lot.

Stolen was a 1984 Bigfoot 9½ foot camper. The thieves also stole tires and rims, a propane tank and a stereo system.

Do you know who these thieves are? Call Crimestoppers now at 340-TIPS, that's 340-8477. You can also call Crimestoppers Toll Free at 1-800-661-TIPS. Crimestoppers will pay up to $2,000 for this or any other serious unsolved crime, and remember, you will never have to reveal your identity. Crimestoppers serves the entire Parkland area.

Advanced marketing tool in Olds

The most advanced marketing tool is coming to town.

Options on futures contracts will be the topic of the day at an informational seminar to be hosted by The Winnipeg Commodity Exchange on Wednesday, Dec. 4 at the Olds Legion Hall, 10:00 a.m.

This informational seminar will introduce the concepts of what an options contract is and explain the purpose and function of The Winnipeg Commodity Exchange.

Options on futures contracts, if used correctly, will assist farmers in their attempt to capture premium prices when they occur in the marketplace. Options on futures contracts have been developed by The Winnipeg Commodity Exchange through a grant from the Western Economic Diversification fund.

Options on futures contracts provide valuable price insurance for anybody involved in marketing grain. Through the use of options, farmers can limit the risk of declining prices while retaining the ability to benefit from rising prices.

Like other forms of insurance, options provide coverage for a limited financial cost. Buyers of options pay a relatively small premium which is based upon the amount of coverage purchased. Unlike futures contracts, buyers of options contracts do not have to deposit "margin" or meet margin calls.

Options enhance a farmers' marketing flexibility. The unique protection offered by options, plus the limited financial obligation, increases the strategies and opportunities for marketing grain at a more profitable price.

There are two types of options traded on The Winnipeg Commodity Exchange, put options and call options.

Put options are generally used by people who "put" commodities on the market. Put option buyers are, in effect, buying downside price insurance and place a floor price with this type of option on potential crop sales.

Call options are generally used by people who "call" commodities off the market. Call option buyers are, in effect, buying upside price insurance, and place a ceiling price with this type of option on potential crop purchases.

Those interested in attending this informational meeting can obtain tickets at the Pioneer Grain Elevator, Olds. (Tickets are $10, which include lunch, coffee, and an options workbook.)

Stetson, Beaver pick up awards

Scott Stetson of the department of family and social services in Olds, has been named social worker of the year for the department's central region.

Mr. Stetson, who resides in Didsbury, received an award at the 18th annual training conference of the Alberta Foster Parent Association in Edmonton.

Jean Beaver of Olds also received her award as foster parent of the year for central region.

More than 400 people attended the conference at which a new executive was elected.

Conference organizers said they were pleased with the overwhelming response they received to the inaugural foster care training model delivered jointly by foster parents and social workers.

"Foster parents are finally being recognized for their expertise and we are working with the department to ensure that they receive the support they need to become professional caregivers," said Pat Morin of Fort McMurray, newly-elected president of the association.

Support group helps adoptive parents

Becoming a good parent to a child takes more than just luck.

Besides love, patience and understanding, you need the advice of others.

Adoptive parents are no exception. Up until now, however, information and support on dealing with adoptive parenting issues was not available in the Olds area.

It's a problem Karen Creelman is anxious to have become a part of the past.

Creelman is just one of about 10 active parents taking part in a newly-formed Adoption Support Group in Olds. "We really involve a lot of different aspects of adoption in our Group," Creelman says. "... it can be for people just thinking about adoption, people on waiting lists, people who have adopted before, or people who have been adopted."

When the idea to hold a support group was first introduced in early October, there was little intention of having it become a regular session. "We first met at the Social Services Office in Olds." It was support, according to Creelman, what the group members need more than anything. "Adoption affects you for the rest of your life . . .

it's not something that you can just go through and then forget."

Creelman says many parents are faced with a long frustrating process that begins from the time they make their decision to adopt.

"There are just so many options parents are faced with these days. They can either go through Social Services to adopt or attempt a private adoption."

In most cases, adopting a child from Social Services can take between eight and 10 years of waiting. Private adoptions take only two years, but can be very costly. "It's helpful to just take the time to sit down and listen to these people's frustrations. Everyone in the group has been through some form of adoptive process . . . red tape . . . and they tend to have a lot more empathy because of that," Creelman says.

Right now, Creelman says the Support Group is applying to the government for enough funding to buy resource books, audio/visual aids and hire professional speakers to visit their sessions.

"Every child has the right to a permanent, loving family. We're just trying to make sure that if adoptive families need some help getting there, we can offer some support."

This week is Adoptive

Awareness Week in Alberta. If you need any information about adoption, please contact the Social Services Office in Olds.

SUNDRE / WESTWARD HO NEWS

Company faces court action over cleanup delay

Contempt charges have been launched against an Olds company for failing to clean up toxic waste at two Alberta locations, including Sundre.

SCA Waste Systems Ltd. was scheduled to appear in Court of Queen's Bench, Red Deer, Monday after the company allegedly ignored a court order to dispose of the waste.

There was no word on the court proceedings at press time Monday.

During the summer, the court had ordered the company to dispose of 75 drums of oilfield waste discovered near Sundre.

The company was also ordered to clean up laboratory chemicals and barrels of paint found in an open field just outside Blackfalds.

Civil contempt charges have been laid against Danny Cadman and his father Alf who helped operate SCA Waste Systems Ltd. Also named in the contempt charges were SCA Waste Systems Ltd. and Parkland Farms Ltd.

The charges have been described as part of the legal process to get the cleanup rolling.

Alberta Environment is making available $50,000 to help dispose of the toxic waste.

The Cadmans have said it has taken time to identify and label the wastes because some had been incorrectly identified more than five years ago.

Shovelling snow a pain in the back

"Shovelling snow and clearing icy walkways can often lead to lower back pain," says Dr. Jim Bortolotto, the President of the College of Chiropractors of Alberta. Bending, lifting, and twisting are common activities for snow and ice removal around many Alberta homes at this time of year. "Such repeated and sometimes excessive activity can lead to back injuries, not to mention disc and neurological problems or muscle strains," says Dr. Bortolotto.

The lower back is particularly vulnerable to overexertion-type injuries, according to Dr. Bortolotto. However, some precautions can be taken to prevent lower back pain and injury. Good use of body mechanics helps and this simply requires common sense and improved body awareness. When shovelling snow the general rules of proper lifting should be followed.

The College of Chiropractors offer some preventative "Codes of Caution."

1. Dress warmly to prevent chilling of muscles and frostbite. Wear warm, non-slip boots.

2. Bend knees and use your legs to shovel and lift. Avoid excessive bending or twisting of your back.

3. Always turn using your feet, not you back.

4. Push snow out of the way whenever possible, rather than lifting or throwing.

5. Use a shovel with a long handle to minimize the degree of bending.

Constitutional reform is about many things.

But mostly it's about you.

As Canadians, we are now facing one of the most important challenges in our history. Proposals have been put forward by the Government of Canada to improve our Constitution. These proposals, for a more united and prosperous Canada in which all Canadians can feel at home, are currently being reviewed by a special parliamentary committee. They will also be considered by a series of conferences run by independent Canadian organizations.

Some of the proposals include:

- a Canada clause that speaks of our hopes and dreams as Canadians, our values, our diversity, our tolerance and our generosity of spirit

• recognizing the right of aboriginal peoples to govern themselves while being protected by Canadian law

• ensuring recognition of Quebec's distinctiveness and of minority language groups

• reforming the Senate to make it elected, effective and much more equitable than it is now

• strengthening Canada's economic union so Canadians can work and conduct business anywhere in the country

• guaranteeing property rights.

It will be on display this Saturday, Nov. 30, at the Carstairs Artists Art Show at the Half-Century Club, and after that date until Dec. 12 at Contemporary Graphics Ltd. in Didsbury. PERSONALITIES

New owners adding life to store

By Peter Crosby

Kevin and Youn Chang are settling into Didsbury as the new operators of Hi Ho Gas & Grocery.

"I loved Didsbury from the moment we drove into town," said Kevin. "My impression of the entry to Didsbury was that it was so beautiful. With its rolling hills and stream it reminded me of the small town where I was born [in South Korea]."

Since taking over the business the first of August, Kevin and Youn have made a number of changes designed to spruce up the appearance of the store.

"I like bright," said Kevin. With this in mind, new windows and a new door have been installed, there are new tiles on the floors and more lighting has been added.

"I think you have to give customers the feeling that it's a pleasure to welcome them into your store," said Kevin. "You've got to create a pleasing atmosphere."

Also part of creating that atmosphere is a welcome smile from the staff. "We're in the service industry and making personal contact with each and every customer is most important," Kevin suggested. "The customer is king. We are here to serve the customer."

The Changs plan to make further renovations to the business, including paving of the parking area next spring.

"One thing I've noticed is that there's a lot of dust and I think that has to be reduced," Mr. Chang said.

A selection of videos has been added to the store's products and services.

And recently, Hi-Ho became the only outlet for the Alberta Lottery Corporation's Sports Select. The store also handles the popular Lotto 649.

The Sports Select game is gaining popularity every week, Mr. Chang said. "We have some very good players."

Kevin came to Edmonton from South Korea with his family in 1974. He began learning English in junior and senior high school classes in his homeland and took further English studies at the University of Alberta.

He moved to Calgary and created a janitorial business, then got into the fresh flower business and later a convenience store.

He said he decided to sell the store because the economy in Calgary seemed too dependent on one source, the oilpatch.

He and Youn married in 1982 and have two children, Abraham in Grade 3 and Daniel in Grade 1.

Mr. Chang said it is difficult to take time off work. "I'm here seven days a week. I've only been in business for three months and it's very important to establish personal contact with my customers." He

Centrium opens this weekend

The Westerner, together with the city of Red Deer, is inviting everyone to take part in Celebration '91.

The official opening of the Centrium and Parkland Pavilion runs Nov. 29th through to Dec. 1st and Sunday, Dec. 1st will be a community open house with lots of entertainment and excitement planned.

The day starts with free public skating from 11 a.m. to noon, where everyone will be invited to browse through the facility and take a glimpse at the backstage workings of the new Centrium. Then local ice sports, dance, floor sports and musicians take over the ice and various stages to provide non-stop activity.

At 2:45 p.m. the 100th Anniversary Committee will seal and bury the time capsule containing many artifacts of this important year for The Westerner Exposition Association.

At 3 p.m. the official opening of the Centrium will be highlighted by a spectacular laser and light show. Everyone will then be invited to share in the Westerner's birthday cake.

Many dignitaries will take part in the day, including their honours, Lieutenant-Governor Gordon Towers and Doris Towers, the Honourable Ken Kowalski, the Honourable John Oldring, MLA Stockwell Day, MLA Gary Severtson and MP Doug Fee.

Chairman Margie McPhee said that the entire weekend was set up to showcase the versatility of the new facilities. "Friday's hockey game and Saturday's concert feature International Calibre Sporting and Cultural Talent. We wanted Sunday to be a community day, involving a wide variety of local groups in the activities." She hopes that it will show everyone that the Centrium will meet the needs of a broad spectrum of user groups. "I know that the light and laser show will be worth the trip to Westerner Park." She adds, "It's all free!"

Tickets for Nov. 29th and 30th events are available at Bass Ticketmaster Outlets, or by calling 340-4455. Friday we host Team Canada vs. Team U.S.A., and it includes hockey greats like Eric Lindros and Sean Burke. Saturday evening's concert features a triple billing of Highway 101, Lionel Cartwright and Pirates Of The Mississippi.

Sports poet's works on display

Frank Pavlick, Canada's Sports Poet, returns to the Old Court House Art Gallery in Red Deer with his third annual exhibition and sale of works from Nov. 28 to 30.

Frank is already well-known as a sports color-man and is always in demand as a guest speaker; and now his reputation as a poet is rapidly spreading. As well as being a regular contributor on the CBC's "Saturday Morning Show" and having his poems carried weekly by 40 radio stations and newspapers, he is currently the feature poet for CBC's new pilot program "Good Question" and his work is being considered by Carleton Cards. He is also the feature sports writer for Red Deer's newest magazine "Pizzaz" and writes the column Sports Compost. Frank recently learned that the 1990 presentation "Bravo Alberta," of which he was a member of the cast, has won two AMPA Awards as the best variety show in Alberta. His current literacy projects include an animated sports cartoon, and writing another hockey book.

For this exhibition only, the Olds Court House Gallery hours are 10 a.m. to 8:30 p.m.,

Thursday and Friday, and 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. on Saturday. Frank will be in attendance throughout the three days and invites the public to join him to view his latest works, have some fun, and enjoy some Christmas goodies.

The Family Dumping Ground

To err is human, to blame someone else is more human. This statement really hit home when reading a newspaper article by a Calgary social worker, Cindy Stevenson.

Stevenson asked Grade 7 students to write to her about stress in their lives. From the responses, Stevenson realized many kids were the Dumping Ground for parents, older siblings and even teachers' problems.

It is known as displacement—someone or something hurts you in the work place; you go home and dump on whoever's there, usually the children.

When kids are on the receiving end of displacement, Stevenson says, "They believe they are to blame for whatever has gone wrong." In other words, adult stress results in childhood stress.

The Price of Stress

Adults and children alike pay a physical price when under stress. The old stomach ache routine is the most common complaint in children. It is followed by frequent vomiting, sleeping a lot, eating a lot or not at all, joking a lot, aggression, moodiness and illness often leading to thoughts of suicide. In fact Stevenson received 12 suicide notes from 400 responses.

Highest stress symptoms of farmers have been identified as losing temper, chronically tired, forgetfulness, trouble relaxing, back pain and increase in arguments.

Athletes in training use proper nutrition, adequate rest, physical exercise along with minimal or no contact with alcohol and cigarettes.

Coping with Anger

It is okay to feel angry. It is not okay to hurt someone when you feel anger.

When you notice your individual signs of anger such as voice becoming louder or palms sweating, take time out before you explode.

After you have cooled off try this approach:

1. Explain the situation as you see it.
2. Tell how you feel, it is not a sign of weakness to say "I'm worried or I'm scared."
3. Suggest what you would like changed.

At the same time be prepared to listen to the other person's feeling and at no time belittle their feelings.

A very wise person once said, "One never learns a thing when they do all the talking." In other words, Listen To Learn.

Children are wonderful. Being a parent is both scary and rewarding. Let your family know you have frustrations, but always love them, spend time with them and let them know they make your life complete.

Food not fines

The Didsbury Library isn't collecting fines for overdue books these days.

Instead, those guilty of late returns will be asked to give a non-perishable food item from now until Christmas.

These goods will be turned over to food hampers for the needy.

Blazers prevail over Ramblers

Trochu Blazers avenged an early-season loss to the Didsbury Ramblers by beating the Ramblers 5-3 in a Chinook Hockey League game at the Memorial Complex Saturday.

With the victory, Trochu improved its record to 2-4, while Didsbury dropped to 1-6 in the basement of the five-team league.

Five game misconducts were handed out by referee Kerry Bales when tempers erupted into fighting in the third period.

Cyril Jensen and captain Ed Krebs of Didsbury were sent to the showers along with Trochu's Miles Howe, Mark Biggs and Derrick Benedict.

Besides the fighting penalties, the referee whistled down 37 minors, 20 to Didsbury.

Trochu took advantage of a pair of power play opportunities in the first period on their way to a 2-0 lead, Derrick Davison pulling the trigger twice.

Chris Collinge, on passes from Kevin Krebs and Darcy Conley, put Didsbury on the scoreboard midway through the period with an even-strength tally.

Didsbury then tied the game in the second minute of the middle period on a short-handed effort by Shane Krebs. He was set up by Darcy Pride.

But Trochu regained the lead, 3-2, when Brian Morrison beat Didsbury netminder Marty Krebs.

In the third, the Blazers increased their lead to 4-2 on a goal by Shawn Painter before Alan Shields connected for the Ramblers, assisted by Jamie Jensen and Collinge.

But Trochu saluted away the victory on another goal by Painter with just over five minutes to play.

Krebs turned aside 29 shots, while Trochu netminder Warren Ferguson was tested 21 times.

The Ramblers will try to get back on the winning track this Friday when they travel to Innisfail in the first of a home-and-home series. Innisfail visits Didsbury Sunday, Dec. 1 at 1:30 p.m.

There'll be free admission for everyone bringing a non-perishable food item to be donated to the needy in Didsbury and area.

Didsbury junior foursome to national curling camp

The Didsbury Curling Club will be represented at a national junior curling camp in Regina this weekend.

Skip Neil Kennedy's foursome, which represented the southern zone at the 1990-91 provincial junior men's curling championship, is one of the only two Alberta junior men's rinks to be chosen to attend the camp, sponsored by Curl Canada.

One junior women's team will also represent Alberta.

Kennedy's rink includes Tyler Marshall, Jamie Gingrich and Sean Phillips, along with coaches Vair Whitlow and Hobie Horton.

Whitlow said he's hopeful the camp will help the team improve enough to take another serious run in the provincials this year.

"The camp should be very helpful for the coaches too," said Whitlow.

The trip is being paid for by Curl Canada and the Alberta Curling Federation.

Grizzlys keep winning

By Peter Crosby

Olds Grizzlys continued their winning ways in Alberta Junior Hockey League Play last week.

Olds defeated Fort McMurray Oil Barons 6-3 Thursday and followed with a second win at home, knocking off Sherwood Park Crusaders 5-1 on Friday.

"We're playing good hockey [only five losses in 25 games] and that's resulting in excellent crowd support," said coach Chris Stewart. "We're also playing a good calibre of hockey and that brings the fans out."

This week the Grizzlys play in St. Albert where they face the Saints tonight (Nov. 26), followed by a home game Friday against the first-year Bonnyville Pontiacs.

PBI beats DHS for volleyball title

Didsbury High School Dragons boys volleyball team gave it their best shot but Prairie Bible Institute of Three Hills wouldn't be denied.

PBI knocked off DHS 15-9, 16-14 to capture the south-central AA zone title in the championship match of a one-day tournament in Didsbury Saturday. PBI will now advance to the provincial AA championship to be played in Sedgewick. PBI and DHS lived up to their advance billing as the top two seeds in Saturday's tournament.

Didsbury made it to the final by defeating Banff 15-4, 15-5 in one semi-final, while PBI beat Crossfield 15-5, 15-7.

In all, 11 teams participated in the tournament.

Atom C's win

The Didsbury Atom C Warriors turned back Drumheller in a 6-2 victory Nov. 23 with a strong defensive game.

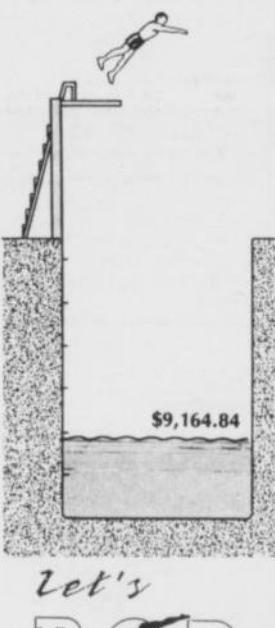

Brian Pieper sparked the offence with a hat-trick. Other scorers were Jamie Campbell, Tyler Barker and Jonathan Dowell. The Warriors are now 3-1-0 in their first four league games.

Atoms win B title

The Didsbury Atom C Warriors played in Innisfail in an Atom Tournament over the weekend of Nov. 16-17.

On Saturday they won their first game 2-0 and lost their second 7-1. Sunday was a strong team effort with a win over Innisfail of 4-2 to win the B side final. David McKinnon, in net, won the MVP.

Lajeunesse, who hails from up the highway in Innisfail, pumped home three goals in the win over the Oil Barons, giving him a league-leading 27 goals. He also has 25 assists and leads the AJHL scoring derby with 52 points, one better than Fulton.

Fulton had a goal in the win over Fort McMurray and counted twice against Sherwood Park.

Steve Opp had two markers in the defeat of the Oil Barons and he had another goal in the second game. Tyler Graham also scored for Olds.

Concrete is the basement building material with all the advantages.

Strong & Durable. A concrete basement will never leak or rot. And concrete is safe. Quality construction. Concrete walls are strong and durable. They may be hazardous to building occupants.

Concrete is an energy-wise choice. A concrete basement needs little heat or air-conditioning. And concrete walls are easy to insulate.

Finally, concrete is a great investment. A concrete basement will add years of life to the foundation and considerably adds to the resale value.

Add up the advantages. There's simply no alternative to quality controlled concrete. The best basement building material.

North Lone Pine W.I. news

By Christine Milne, Sec.

The November 18th meeting held at the home of Christine Milne was attended by 6 members.

Roll call was "The Most Important Thing I Have Learned."

Plans were finalized for the Kinsmen Manor Christmas Dinner, Nov. 21st.

We congratulate Inez Page on her efforts in collecting warm clothing, etc. for the citizens of war-ravaged Croatia. Some of us will be donating to this cause.

We heard speakers on Conservation and International Affairs. Evelyn Clarke has an excellent topic on Paper. With the world-wide deforestation and the massive use by our generation of paper products, future generations will find paper a costly luxury and reading material only available on electronic equipment.

The international effort to put out the Kuwait Oil Field fires was the subject of Eve Fell's report, and was followed by a roundtable discussion on this topic.

Our handicraft convener, Shirley Thompson gave us a lesson on crocheting the Navajo afghan. It is easier than it looks. We are also each going to try a woven afghan, a special category in our local competition.

We are all saddened to lose a valuable member, Doris McWilson from our group. Doris and Harry are moving to Airdrie, and we wish them a very happy retirement.

Our Christmas meeting will be one week early. Contests were won by Evelyn Clarke—a Farm Scramble, and Chris Milne who had the longest maiden name.

RELIGION

The Way of Life

Pastor Richard Pahl
Didsbury Zion Evangelical Church

"The Barriers Are Down"

Ever since Adam's fall in the garden of Eden, people have been erecting walls among themselves. Our sin has also separated us from our Creator. Because of our transgressions we are alienated from the very source of life itself. Yet God loved us so much that He sent His only begotten Son to pay the penalty for our sins. Christ's sacrifice has therefore broken down all the barriers between us and God.

Many years ago the Prince of Wales visited the capital city of India. A formidable barrier had been set up to keep back the masses of people who wanted to catch a glimpse of royalty. When the prince arrived, he shook hands with some of the political dignitaries who were presented to him. Then, looking over their heads to the crowds beyond, he said, "Take down those barriers!" They were quickly removed and all the people, regardless of social rank, had free access to the heir of the British Empire. Some time later when the prince came to that district again, 10,000 outcasts waited under a banner inscribed with these words: "The Prince of the Outcasts."

Christians have an even greater prince in the person of Christ. He not only left Heaven's glory to live on earth, but He also took upon Himself human flesh and identified with fallen humanity. Then by His death on the cross He removed the obstacle of sin that separates us from God. Now through faith in Him we have full access to the Father because "He is our peace." Under His banner we exclaim with rejoicing, "Praise be to Jesus! The Saviour of sinners!"

As we fast approach the Christmas season in which we celebrate the coming of this Prince of Peace, why not make Him your Prince as well.

THOT: Christ became a curse FOR us to remove the curse FROM us.

Grasping real meaning of Christmas

Pastor Bev Baum
Carstairs Church of God

"What does Christmas mean to you?" A couple years ago, I read an article about Christmas. There was a wide diversity of responses—one person said it was a time to get together with loved ones, another said it was a time of the year that was extremely lonely, a little boy said it was when there was "no school," another said it was a time of giving gifts, and on went the list. Yet, when we look at our Lord's explanation of His birth, this is what we discover: "The Son of Man did not come to be served, but to serve, and to give His life as a ransom for many" (Matt. 20:28, NIV).

Jesus' birth had a purpose—He came to give His life for each one of us. He came to show us the way to God. What a privilege to celebrate and rejoice in the historic event—the birth of our Savior—God with us!

We must always see the manger in the light of the cross, for Jesus is our hope. On that long ago Christmas day the Son of God became humanly one with us. He became our representative before God—in His death, He saved us from our sins; in His resurrection, He brought new hope!

Nothing is more important than to grasp the real meaning of Christmas! May we keep our sense of awe at the Christmas miracle—that "God loves us so much that He gave His only Son, that all who believe on Jesus, won't perish, but have eternal life!"

May you and your family discover and keep the true meaning of Christmas in your hearts throughout this Christmas season and 1992!

conference

More than 100 rural Red Cross fundraisers, including Jim Hooper of Didsbury, have returned to their home communities ready to spread the message of Red Cross, after a weekend conference here which focused on motivation and training, socializing and congratulations.

The occasion was Focus '91, a biannual conference organized by the Alberta-Northwest Territories Division of The Canadian Red Cross Society. The purpose of the conference, was to recognize the commitment of being a volunteer fund-raiser for the Red Cross and to give those same volunteers the tools necessary to achieve their goals.

"Your hard work in your home town is the very backbone of the Red Cross movement," registrar Guy Mallabone told delegates. "Your vitality proves that our future looks bright."

There are 250 rural campaign locations in Alberta and the Northwest Territories which raise more than $500,000 for the Red Cross each year. This money allows the Red Cross, a not-for-profit organization, to offer its services and programs to residents across the province.

Seminars during the conference included the role of volunteers within the Red Cross, an overview of running a campaign, organizing special events and recruiting volunteers. Presenters included Douglas Franklin, president of The Canadian Centre for Philanthropy; Keith Stewart, Commissioner, Alberta-Northwest Territories Division; Bruce Borysiuk, manager of cultural services for the City of St. Albert; and John Dyer, coordinator of staff development with the Calgary Board of Education.

In addition to local representatives, delegates also attended from Red Cross divisions across Canada.

Alberta Special Waste Management Corporation

LESS IS MORE

Waste Minimization is the process of reducing the flow of wastes to ease pressure on landfills and treatment facilities, and recovering waste materials for use in other forms. It's a good idea – and, as you can see by these recent successes in hazardous and special waste minimization, it works. Clearly, the less we waste, the more we benefit.

Pesticide Containers

...and in our community:

A reminder to be careful in disposing of antifreeze because antifreeze is poison to pets. It is estimated by the Alberta Veterinary Medical Association that in the past year, 600 animals have died from antifreeze poisoning in Alberta. Make sure containers are stored out of the reach of children and pets.
